CLOTHING, PROVISIONS, &C.—Among the most spirited of our Piochs merchants may certainly be placed the firm of S. Ashim & Bro., who are always up to the times. They have lately received very large accessions to their stock, and are now prepared to offer clothing, provisions, groceries and general merchandise on the most favorable terms. The quality of their goods will be their best recommendation, and they are placed at figures which cannot be beat. Intending purchasers may profitably pay a visit to the store of S. Ashim & Bro., Main sirvet, opposite Lacour.

The Chinese Feud.—A Chinaman yesterday attempted to enlighten us, in the following satisfactory terms, respecting the row that occurred some time since among the Mongolians: "Chinamen all same "Melicans—heap damn fool, too muchee blandee, too muchee women." The disciple of Confucins had apparently reached the conclusion that wine and women frequently caused considerable trouble.

Beggaans.—By the departures yesterday we are glade to note that alt of professional beggars, who did us the honor of staying in Pioche for the last few days, have taken themselves off. In

The stage from the South arrived two hours behind time last evening. The de-tention was caused by the wood-drive from Alpine county having got away on its own hook. It appears that in the drive is about 120,000 cords of wood; the high water started the drive too suddenly, booms, dams and every other ob-struction was carried away like snow by the hot sun. The bridge below Monitor is said to be demolished and the wood is seattered ever all the ranches down to the river. It is said by experts that if properly managed the wood owners will rather make than bene by the accident. —[Carson Tribune, 3.

An individual who had taken an over-lose of tanglefoot, attempted last night to clean out the town. He said that it to clean out the town. He said that it was such a pretty and homelike burg that he wanted it all to himself. At about 8 o'clock he brought up in front of Charlie Hobbs' restaurant, and fell upon an inoffensive man and gave him a severe beating; one of the bystanders interfering, the aforesaid individual grabbed his hand, thrust two of his fingers into his mouth, closed his teeth and very near severed the fingers from the man's hand.

STOCKARY DEATH.—Last evening A. Linecolu died very suddenly, it is supposed, of lead poisoning contracted while working at the mills in Ballionville. He came up from the latter place the day before yesterlay for medical treatment, and yesterlay morning was thought to be some better, but in the afternoon was used for the California without first going to Carson City, the enterprising capital of the Silver State. Socially we are

The SMELTING OUTLOOK. — Matters here at Hamilton seem to assume a cheerful aspect just now, and great confidence is being expressed in the ultimate future of our base metal mines. Since Sunday we have only one fight to record, and that was of a very harminess character. In the first place, the belligerents were too drunk, in the next they were not very ferocious, and only became so on the representations of their friends, of the absolute necessity for the ordered of battle to heal their wounded honer. A round or two was indulged in on Meadow Valley street, but the parties were so much incore ready with their tongues than their hands, that the scene of the dispute was shifted to the friendly shelter of a neighboring bar-room, where smoke-stacks of the old Mattison furna-ces, so long a monument to the misdi-rected efforts of the well-meaning but ignorant ore smelters.
